

Section through the rear courtyard

Courtyard and walkways join the existing building and its timber frame extension with the rammed earth new structure to the West, shown under construction.